

Dialogical Tracks, 2018 CUR Biennial

This dialogical conference will facilitate democratic dialogue among small groups of CUR members who share common commitments to specific undergraduate research issues. The dialogue provides an opportunity to find solutions to problems and plan activities such as publications, white papers, or grants.

Each group will meet during a preconference session and once during the conference for a total of 10 hours. The first meeting will be on the afternoon of Saturday, June 30, 2018.

To be considered for a particular track, applicants must submit a resume/CV and a 150–200-word description of why they would like to be a part of the dialogical track and what they can contribute to the desired outcomes. Each applicant may only apply to one track. Each track is limited to 10 participants.

The deadline to submit an expression of interest is Tuesday, November 21, 2017.
