

CONTENTS

June Focus: Bio2010

Bio2010 – Challenges, Opportunities, and Concerns	149
—James M. Gentile, President, Research Corporation
Bio2010 – What’s Missing? A Geoscience Perspective	151
—Jill Singer and Lydia K. Fox
Bio2010 – Evolution as an Alternative Organizing Theme	153
—C. Phoebe Lostroh and James J. Ebersole
Reacting and Responding to Bio2010 at Hope College	156
—Christopher C. Barney and Thomas L. Bultman
Beyond Bio2010: If We Build It, Will They Come?	160
—Karl Haushalter and David J. Asai
Destination Bio2010: Taking the Road Less Traveled	164
—Stasinos Stavrianeas and Peter Harmer
Navigating Through Interdisciplinary Pitfalls and Pathways to Success	169
—Diane W. Husic
Biological Research through Science Informatics	177
—Katherine G. Herbert and Dorothy Deremer
Compensation for Summer Research with Undergraduates: Issues and Options	182
—Jonathan E. Visick
Bio2010 and the Course, Curriculum, and Laboratory Improvement Program at NSF	185
—Nancy L. Pruitt, Melissa Almodóvar, Jeanne R. Small and Terry Woodin

Departments

From the Issue Editor — Kelly McConnaughay	100
Undergraduate Research Highlights	188
News
Attention CUR News	192
Upcoming CUR Institutes	inside back cover
CUR National Office News
CUR Fellow Award Recipients	132
CUR’s 2006 National Conference	191
CUR Calendar	146