CUR PSYCHOLOGY DIVISION NEWS

Dear esteemed Psychology Division member:

CUR is looking to increase its leadership and diversity in its Councilor membership, and we are asking that you consider running for CUR Councilor this fall.

As a CUR Psychology Councilor, you can:

- impact the direction of the national conversation around undergraduate research
- network with other dynamic psychology faculty who are passionate about undergraduate research
- learn from national and international leaders on undergraduate research
- enjoy unparalleled collegiality from fellow Councilors
- cultivate leadership experiences on a national stage

A Councilor term runs for three years, and Councilors are expected to attend the annual 2-day CUR business meeting every June (it is not uncommon for your administration to defray attendance costs in recognition of the honor this represents for both you and the institution as a whole). Typically, Councilors will serve on one committee and spend a modest amount of time working on Psychology CUR business during the year.

Members nominate themselves for a Councilor position, and we want to encourage you to consider the advantages of becoming a CUR Councilor.

Submit Your Self-Nomination for CUR Councilor

The submission deadline is November 15, 2020.

Please pass this message along to any colleagues who might benefit from this leadership opportunity. If you have any questions, do not hesitate to reach out to me.

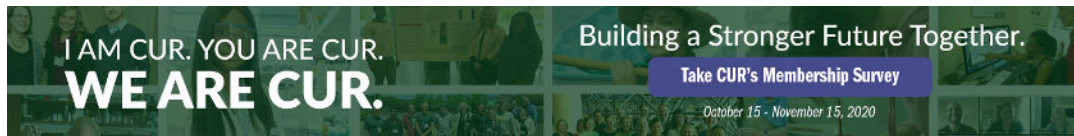

Best,

Sabrina Des Rosiers, Ph.D.
